Imagine a university that does more than prepare you for a career— one that also equips you for a full and meaningful life.

At Trinity Western, we are deeply committed to providing a whole person education, where you'll develop practical professional skills while exploring bigger ideas about who you are, what you believe, and what you're called to do in the world.

You'll be welcomed into an authentic community that will help you find connections between biblical truth and every area of your life, building the foundation for a fulfilling future, where you're equipped to be the light.

Equipped for Life

OUR VISION

Every graduate is equipped to think truthfully, act justly, and live faithfully for the good of the world and the glory of God.

In 1962, an extraordinary dream began—to establish a distinctly Christian university in Canada, a place for equipping students to set the foundation for a full and meaningful life.

Trinity Western has since grown to become Canada's largest faith-based university and one of North America's premier global Christian universities, offering a full range of undergraduate and graduate degrees, including professional schools in business, education, human kinetics, nursing, and clinical psychology.

Every year, more than 6,000 students from over 80 countries experience an academically excellent liberal arts and sciences education while being formed within a Christ-centred, student-focused, and globally engaged community.

At Trinity Western, students are equipped to participate in advancing God's kingdom, and we look forward to welcoming you to join us in this exciting vision for the future—your future.

Trinity Western University's Langley campus is located on the traditional, ancestral, unceded territory of the Stó:lō people.

Universities
Canada.

Find your place

Surrounded by greenspace and a stunning view of the Coast Mountains, our main campus in Langley, B.C. is just a short drive from Vancouver and right next to Fort Langley—a picturesque university town on the banks of the Fraser River.

This location provides the perfect blend of breathtaking outdoor exploration and exciting city adventures—from hiking, skiing, and the beach to food, concerts, culture, and more.

On sunny days, the lawns around campus are full of students reading, relaxing in hammocks, or playing spikeball. In cooler weather, students connect in the Trinity Commons or gather outdoors by the fireplace in the Ubuntu Pavilion. A few minutes down the road in Fort Langley, students can enjoy special TWU discounts at many of the town's incredible businesses, restaurants, and coffee shops.

ON-CAMPUS RESIDENCE

You'll love what living on campus has to offer. Dorms are more than just a place to sleep. Whether it's dorm movie nights, all-night study sessions, competing in dorm skits during Fort Week, or having meals together in the cafeteria, living in residence is an incredible way to make lifelong friends from all over the world.

COMMUTING

If you're planning on commuting, the entire community experience is here for you, and our commuter collegiums are specially designed to be your perfect home away from home. Featuring comfy couches, cozy fireplaces, and an endless supply of coffee, collegiums are fully equipped with modern kitchens and stocked with snacks, making for an ideal place to get some work done or just hang out with friends.

Enjoy every day

Living the Trinity Western experience.

Looking for opportunities to meet new friends, make lifelong memories, and grow in all areas of your life? Whatever your skills or interests, there's a club, team, ministry, or activity for you to get plugged into.

At TWU, you can play on an intramural sports team, take a walk with friends around McMillan Lake or through our network of nature trails, cheer on the Spartans, have some laughs at 11:07 (our comedy improv night)—and that's just one day in your life as a TWU student.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH

Every other weekday, as a vibrant part of campus life, we gather as a community for our voluntary chapel service. Chapel features an engaging lineup of speakers, thought-provoking messages, community prayer, student-led worship, and more. You can explore and live out your faith alongside others on a similar journey by participating in one of our many on-campus Student Life programs, such as small-group Bible studies, discipleship groups, and spiritual formation workshops. Our peer mentorship program pairs students for individual discipleship.

CANADA'S CAPITAL

Spend an unforgettable semester at the Laurentian Leadership Centre (LLC) in the heart of Ottawa, Ontario.

The LLC is a live-in extension program in a stunning historic mansion just a few blocks from Parliament Hill. Together with a small group of students, you'll study leadership, ethics, public policy, culture, and faith. You'll also spend time working and impacting lives in an internship that matches your interests—at a government leader's office or a non-profit organization.

No other program in Canada offers the same access to elite Ottawa internships in politics and NGOs.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Faculty were actively engaged in a wide variety of fields that provided access to current, in-depth examples of real-life business. Rather than focusing on book knowledge, they encouraged us to use critical thinking in our coursework by using simulations and case studies. This was enhanced by small class sizes and easy access to professors outside of class time.

Nina Klein, 2019

At TWU's School of Business, we combine practical excellence in a faith-based context. Practical in terms of real-world business application; excellence in terms of quality of teaching and scholarship; and faith-based that gives context to how we manage our businesses and live our lives.

Q&A with a recent TWU graduate

Meet Isabella

Q: Can you tell us about yourself and what drew you to the program you studied at TWU?

A: Hi, I'm Isabella. Everyone at Trinity Western calls me Izzy. I graduated from TWU with an honours degree in business, and I specialized in HR. What led me to my program was I started working in HR at a pretty young age, so I knew that was what I wanted to do.

I grew up between two cultures. My family emigrated from Colombia to Canada, and I loved being a part of both cultures and getting to experience calling two places home, but it also left me with a need and longing for belonging. In Colombia, my family had heard about TWU, and they had always wanted their kids to go to this university. When I came to Trinity Western, I was only planning on staying for one or two years, but I was so surprised by the people that I met and the warmth of the community. I found a place that had values that I could really resonate with. I'm so privileged to call Trinity Western University home, and I really am proud of the time that I had there.

Q: How did your time at TWU equip you to be the light?

A: The community was super supportive and empowering. I feel like it just comes back to people. God used people to pour into me and see my light, but I could then be made aware of it and show it. I think I was given a lot of confidence and joy in who God created me to be. And yes, that was from my personal relationship with the Lord, but it was from other people who again called that out and were able to uplift me during highs and lows in my degree.

Q: How has this impacted your career?

A: I work in human resources, and I love it. HR is more than hiring and firing. For me, it's about coaching and giving people the resources to succeed. It's actually really about discipleship and how I can empower others to become who God has created them to be. I deal with people walking through conflict and dark places, and I feel privileged to be a sort of comfort and light in situations that are difficult.

I enjoy walking alongside people in their employment journey and helping them feel at home because that was a big question mark for me growing up. So as an HR professional, I want to be someone who responds to people with kindness and warmth and who cares about their needs and helps people find their place.

Q: Can you share a transformational moment from your time at TWU?

A: I feel the most transformational impact was the support I had from my professors—my HR professors specifically. Jani McKay and Joan Deeks are just so gracious. It was a point in my life where some days were just very hard emotionally, mentally, and spiritually. I had so many conversations with those two professors and others who were very gracious. Our classes had no more than 15 people, and we would have conversations about faith, our life, prayer requests, and even things happening in the industry. They made such a holistic space for learning, where they really saw us as human beings.

And even now, I feel like I can just go to them with anything whether it's related to my career or my life. When I was trying to find a job, they were very helpful with their contacts. When I see them now that I'm a graduate, they still ask how my family is, so just like how Trinity Western has always felt like a safe space, they make me feel safe. I think my professors really had that kind of transformational impact on my career and personal life.

Q: If you could give one piece of advice to a prospective student considering TWU, what would it be?

A: It's very easy to just coast and go to classes and go home, but really invest in the people around you and in yourself. Sign up for things—go on a travel study. I went to Kenya. I met a lot of lifelong friends on that trip, and it was just the coolest experience. Because of that new experience, I got to add that perspective to my profession and learn about HR in a Kenyan context and with other people in business. I would say that TWU has so much to offer. Don't sit back.

TWU graduates are equipped for life

As a graduate of Trinity Western, you will belong to our global community of over 30,000 alumni, who are using their TWU education to make a difference worldwide. Our graduates are:

Admission requirements

CANADIAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Students are required to graduate from high school or equivalent with a university preparatory program. The minimum requirement for admission is graduation from high school, with a 70% average in English 12 (or equivalent) and three additional Grade 12 academic courses.

For early provisional admission (prior to January 31) and regular provisional admission based on in-progress high school grades, a combination of Grade 11 and Grade 12 academic courses including English 11 or 12 may be used for evaluation.

Students not meeting the required number of courses or GPA will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Final admission is reviewed and granted upon receipt of your official final transcript showing graduation date and meeting the above minimum admission requirements.

For other provinces, the minimum requirement for admission is graduation from an accredited high school (70% average), with Grade 12 English and the required Grade 12 academic courses.

AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The minimum academic requirement for admission is graduation from an accredited high school, with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in the following curriculum:

- Four years of English
- Three years of mathematics
- Two years of social science
- Two years of science
- Two years of additional academic courses

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The admission requirements for international students include:

- Official school documentation
- Certification for English language proficiency (There are eight ways you can meet this requirement.)
